

PRESS RELEASE – CAZENOVE CAPITAL MANAGEMENT CAZENOVE UK ABSOLUTE TARGET FUND EXCEEDS £115M IN LESS THAN 4 MONTHS

The Cazenove UK Absolute Target Fund, managed by Tim Russell, has exceeded £115m in less than 4 months. The fund has already achieved +3.2% since launch (18th July), while the IMA Absolute Return Sector fell -5.4%.*

Cazenove UK Absolute Target Fund is a UK domiciled OEIC, AA rated by Standard & Poor's, launched following demand from the market. The annual return target of 10% net after fees is consistent with the investment objective of an existing hedge fund managed by Tim since 2003.

Robin Minter-Kemp, Managing Director, Cazenove Capital says: "The funds availability has impacted the market both in terms of performance and demand. Provision of real return funds that offer a genuine market neutral approach with an experienced manager are in short supply. Our early success also illustrates the growing demand from investors for uncorrelated assets which can achieve returns independent of equity market volatility.

Although the fund was only launched in July, performance has been in line with its objective and with volatility less than a third of the UK equity market. This is not only a testament to Tim Russell's experience of managing absolute strategies, but is evidence that it is possible to achieve absolute returns in the most volatile market conditions and within the new IMA Absolute Return Sector."

"Investors can now access the fund through a wide selection of platforms following IFA demand. We are also in discussion with a number of life companies about making the fund available via their products."

Regulatory Information and Risk Warnings

The Fund's investments principally provide exposure to the share price movements of a range of UK companies. This means that the value of your investment and any income from it can go down as well as up.

The Manager cannot guarantee that it will achieve the objectives set out for the Fund. When you come to sell your investment, you may not get back as much as you invested. Changes in the rates of exchange between currencies may cause the value of investments to fall or rise. You should remember that past performance is not a guide to future performance.

Investment in this Fund will not be suitable for all investors. Any investment should be considered against your investment needs and attitude to risk. The levels and bases of, and reliefs from, taxation may change. You should obtain professional advice on taxation where appropriate before proceeding with any investment. Income payments may constitute a return of capital in whole or in part. Income may be achieved by foregoing future capital growth.

Typically, UK authorised collective investment schemes invest on a "long-only" basis. This means that they will rise (or fall) in value based on the market value of the assets they hold. Cazenove UK Absolute Target Fund, by employing synthetic shorting techniques, will establish both "long" and "short" investments. As a result, as well as holding assets that may fall or rise with market values, it will also hold positions that will rise in value as the market falls and fall in value as the market rises. Therefore, the Fund is referred to as a "long/short" fund.

The Manager employs a risk management process to oversee and manage exposures within the Fund. The use of synthetic shorting techniques in this Fund has the overall intention of reducing the volatility of returns, although this outcome is not guaranteed. Derivatives held by the Fund will be accounted for and taxed in accordance with the Statement of Recommended Practice for authorised unit trusts. It is the intention of the Manager that all derivative strategies employed will be for investment purposes. However, should HM Revenue & Customs successfully argue in the future that such strategies constitute a trade for tax purposes or decide to impose new rules on the taxation of derivatives, this may lead to tax leakage within the Fund.
